The Wonderful World of Disney

Mondays 9:00-12:00

Calling all Disney fanatics! We will be celebrating all the learning your student will be doing this summer. From learning about the Disney characters and exploring how movies were created to making connections to their own lives, this camp will focus on all speech and language areas needed for academic success. This includes vocabulary building, narrative development, phonological awareness skills (letter/sound identification, rhyming, blending, and segmenting), sight words, phonics skills for spelling and reading unfamiliar words, reading comprehension, and storytelling. We will tackle these goals while providing sensory and motor planning experiences. This is also a great time to target generalization of speech skills (articulation and fluency). See you real soon!

Your child will not only survive, but they will thrive in our book club camp. We will be journeying through books in the series I Survived. A favorite of all students, this series takes the reader on an adventure about a true event through the perspective of a character students can relate to. This camp will focus on all speech and language areas needed for academic success. This includes vocabulary building, written language development, phonics skills for reading and writing unfamiliar words, reading comprehension, auditory comprehension, social skills, and executive function development. This is also a great time to target generalization of speech skills (articulation and fluency). Books will be provided!

Middle/High Schoolers

Week of June 3, 2024 through July 15, 2024

Around the World

Wednesdays 1:00-5:00

If you could travel anywhere in the world, where would you go? We will be exploring different countries, cultures, and traditions through our camp. Join us as we learn how other people spend their days, try new foods from different countries, and decide where our next vacation should be! This camp for middle and high schoolers ramps up the expectations for the reading comprehension, auditory comprehension, writing, social skills, and presenting. A strong emphasis will be placed on making inferences and predictions, comparing and contrasting information as well as the planning and organization process for creating a project through Lego building and presenting on their creations. We can't wait to see your students explore the world.
